

Department of Slavic and East European Languages and Literatures

M.A., Literature Checklist

Print This Page

Language Proficiency:

	Quarter	Grade	Credits
Russian 610 (or equivalent):	_____
Russian Proficiency Exam	_____

Required Courses:

One of the following:

	Quarter	Grade	Credits
Russian 640	_____
Or
Russian 720	_____

Three of the following:

	Quarter	Grade	Credits
Russian 650	_____
Russian 651	_____
Russian 656	_____
Russian 750	_____
Russian 751	_____
Russian 752	_____

3 Electives in Literature:

	Course	Quarter	Grade	Credits
Elective 1:	_____
Elective 2:	_____
Elective 3:	_____
Slavic 999 (Plan A)	_____
Or
One more course in specialization (Plan B)	_____
Other:	_____

Do you have 45 graduate credit hours?
Do you have at least 2 quarters of residency?

Completed

M.A. Examination

Plan A: Thesis

OR

Plan B: Professional Paper (see Graduate Studies Advisor)

Print This Page

Ph.D. Requirements, Slavic Literature, Film and Culture

3 literature surveys in Russian literature (650, 651, 656, 750, 751, 752, 754, 831) or another relevant course

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.

1 course in Russian or another Slavic Poetry or Drama (R653, R723, R750 or others as relevant)

2 courses in Cultural Studies or Film (R657, 664 or others as relevant)

- 1.
- 2.

2 courses in another Slavic Literature/Culture and/or Film (Polish 630, Polish 631 and others – preferably the same as your 2nd Slavic language)

- 1.
- 2.

2 5-credit seminars (Russian 851, Russian 852 or Slavic 850)

- 1.
- 2.

2 Slavic Linguistics courses

- 1.
- 2.

TOTAL: 60 Credit hours

PLUS:

Post-MA Paper – written and presented publicly in the first post-MA year; (for students already in program before 2009-10, this is the equivalent of the 2nd professional paper and MUST be completed before the quarter of candidacy examinations)

Competency in 2nd Slavic Language (through 101-407 coursework, 671/672, previous knowledge, or study at other institutions)

Competency in a Research Language (French, German, or another with approval of GSC; demonstrated by passing a reading exam)

Written and Oral Candidacy Examinations (based on three fields with extensive reading lists of primary and secondary literature, designed by student in consultation with committee, PLUS written draft of dissertation prospectus, to be handed in at the end of the 10-day writing period)

Revised 11/05/09